

Grazia Tucci

grazia.tucci@unifi.it, +39 055 2756580, www.geomaticaeconservazione.it

Grazia Tucci received Ph.D. degree in Geodetic and Topographical Sciences from the Polytechnic of Milan.

From 1998 to 2005 she was researcher in the Polytechnic of Turin and she is now associate professor in the Department of Construction and Restoration of the Faculty of Architecture in Florence where presently she teaches "Geomatic for Restoration project".

As a researcher she works in the field of geomatic and its applications at the Cultural heritage.

Member of ICOMOS Italia.

She gave papers for national and international conferences on geomatic and its applications in the field of the Cultural heritage. Her scientific work has originated more than 60 papers in national and international journals and conferences.